1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Germany on 10/8/01. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the German application as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).
2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to an assembly of a nursing bottle and a nipple at a first end and a toy finger attached to the nursing bottle, classified in class 215, subclass 11.1.
 - II. Claims 15-27, drawn to a toy figure for attachment to a nursing bottle having a head a plurality of appendages and a body with an underside resembling a belly and a back surface, classified in class 446, subclass 71.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the toy figure in the subcombination is required to have a body with a belly and back surface not required in the combination. The subcombination has separate utility such as use as a stand alone toy or a toy attached to a crib of sipper cup not requiring the nipple of the combination.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: upon election of one of group I or II applicant must further elect one of the species of attachment including the hook and loop fastener, the post fastener, the resilient claps with appendages, the rotating fasteners, the adhered fastening or the comolded attachment, as well as the mold figure or the plush figure. The species are independent or distinct because they represent different toy constructions as well as distinct fastening arrangements with different constructions. Applicant is advised that any elected fastener will be required to be shown in the drawings in accordance with 37 CFR 1.83 (a)

Art Unit: 3781

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

6. Applicant is cautioned that there isn't any proper antecedent basis for "the assembly" claimed in claims 16-27.

7. The following are suggested formats for either a Certificate of Mailing or Certificate of Transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). The certification may be included with all correspondence concerning this application or proceeding to establish a date of mailing or transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). Proper use of this procedure will result in such communication being considered as timely if the established date is within the required period for reply. The Certificate should be signed by the individual actually depositing or transmitting the correspondence or by an individual who, upon information and belief, expects the correspondence to be mailed or transmitted in the normal course of business by another no later than the date indicated.
